

agostic

The term designates structures in which a hydrogen atom is bonded to both a carbon atom and a metal atom. The term is also used to characterize the interaction between a CH bond and an unsaturated metal centre, and to describe similar bonding of a transition metal with Si-H compounds. The expression 'μ-hydrido-bridged' is also used to describe the bridging hydrogen.

1994, 66, 1082