

base peak (in mass spectrometry)

The peak in a mass spectrum corresponding to the separated ion beam which has the greatest intensity. This term may be applied to the spectra of pure substances or mixtures.

1991, 63, 1554; O.B. 206