

correlation energy

The difference between the Hartree–Fock energy calculated for a system and the exact non-relativistic energy of that system. The correlation energy arises from the approximate representation of the electron–electron repulsions in the Hartree–Fock method.

1996, 68, 2234