

carbon loading (of the packing material) (in liquid chromatography)

Mass fraction of the packing material which is carbon. Usually taken as a guide to the extent of alkyl substitution on the surface. Usually reported as percentage carbon determined using elemental analysis.

1997, 69, 1477