

discomfort threshold (in atmospheric chemistry)

The lowest value (e.g. concentration of an impurity, etc.) at which a sensation of discomfort is perceived; a measure which varies from person to person.

1990, 62, 2185