

de Mayo reaction

Photochemical process leading to the formation of cyclobutanols by cycloaddition of an alkene to a 1,3-dicarbonyl-enol. The enol originates in most cases from the tautomerization of a 1,3-dicarbonyl compound. The products of the de Mayo reaction are susceptible to undergo a retro-aldol ring opening resulting in the formation of 1,5-dicarbonyl compounds.

