

equilibration

The operation by which a system of two or more phases is brought to a condition where further changes with time do not occur. This term is not synonymous with pre-equilibrium and should not be used in that sense.

1993, 65, 2377