

equalization of electronegativity, principle of

The postulate that in a molecule all the constituent atoms should have same electronegativity value, which would be the geometric mean of the electronegativities of isolated atoms.

1999, 71, 1938