

haze horizon (in atmospheric chemistry)

The top of a haze layer which is confined by a low-level temperature inversion so that it gives the appearance of the horizon which it may obscure.

1990, 62, 2193