

ionizing power

A term to denote the tendency of a particular solvent to promote ionization of an uncharged or, less often, charged solute. The term has been used both in a kinetic and in a thermodynamic context.

See also Dimroth–Reichardt E_T parameter, Grunwald–Winstein equation, Z-value.

1994, 66, 1128