

isorefractive

An adjective describing components of a multicomponent system having zero refractive index increments with respect to each other.

P.B. 68