

multiple peak scanning (in mass spectrometry)

An alternative to multiple ion detection which emphasizes that monitoring of peaks rather than detection of ions is the important feature.

1978, 50, 69