

non-calorimetric thermophysical measurements

These include (p, V, T) measurements, saturated density measurements, and any other measurements which give information on the (p, V, T) surface of a fluid.

1981, 53, 1818