

non-destructive activation analysis

An activation analysis procedure in which, after the irradiation, no chemical and physical operations are applied which cause a change of any properties of the sample.

1982, 54, 1535