

non-ideal, non-linear chromatography

Chromatographic process, where both isotherm curvature and other peak-broadening processes (such as diffusion) contribute to the peak shape.

Note: This case comprises most peaks in common practice that are characterised as "tailing" or "fronting".

1996, 68, 1594