

rebound reaction

If in a chemical process, occurring in a molecular beam, the reaction products are scattered backwards with respect to the moving centre of mass of the system, the reaction is called a rebound reaction.

1996, 68, 185