

result (in analysis)

The final value reported for a measured or computed quantity, after performing a measuring procedure including all subprocedures and evaluations.

1994, 66, 597