

shear transition

A diffusionless transition that involves a change of the shape of the unit cell by a process that can be described as shear.

1994, 66, 590