

single-electron transfer mechanism (SET)

A reaction mechanism characterized by the transfer of a single electron between the species occurring on the reaction coordinate of one of the elementary steps.

1994, 66, 1164