

statistical segment (in polymers)

A segment of an actual polymer chain which behaves, with respect to some property, virtually as a segment of a freely jointed chain.

P.B. 50