

steric factor

A factor introduced into simple versions of the collision theory of reactions to take care of the fact that the reaction probability depends on the certain mutual orientations of the reactant molecules.

See also collision frequency.

1996, 68, 187; see also 1990, 62, 2216